BOOBY CLASS

NO PRIZES — NO LEAVES

This class entered as required by Par 8, Bulletin No. 3, c. s., G. H. Q., A. E. F., 17 January, 1919, which is as follows:

"8. A booby class will be included in all division, corps and army shows. This will be open to the worst teams of draft animals, irrespective of type, in each organization competing. Entrants will be selected on the day before the show by officers or boards of officers from other organizations, and the teams, drivers and helpers so selected will be required to report immediately to the officer, in charge of the show at the point where it is to be held. The winner of the booby class will receive no ribbon or leave, and no organization having a winner in that class will be permitted to receive a first prize in any other class. The officer or board of officers selecting from an organization the booby class entrant, which wins the booby prize, will be given a first-prize leave under Par. 7."

Entries in this class will be announced from the judges stand as they enter the ring.

When the winner of the booby class forfeits his right to any first places that he might have won in other classes, the winners of second and third places in such classes will not be automatically advanced to first and second places respectively.
